Honorary Chair Honors Father

Chip Williams understands the woes of Alzheimer's disease, and has decided to turn tragedy into action. As honorary chair of the Southeast Florida Chapter's first golf event, Chip is passing the honor on to his father and namesake, Joseph P. Williams, Sr. by having the tournament named in memory of his father. Joseph, Sr. suffered with Alzheimer's for 7 years before his passing in 2003.

Chip is certain "Papa Joe" would be proud to have his name associated with this worthy charitable effort, continuing his father's effort to make a difference for his fellow citizens. Like Chip, his dad was passionate about Golf and played all over the world.

At AASEF, we are certain it is clearly a like father, like son scenario. Thank you, Chip!
